SHEEP BREEDERS LIKE DOG LAW

The Executive Committee of the Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association at Lexington, announced resolutions adopted by the members, who are among the leading sheep producers of the state. It is declared that the greatest menace to the sheep industry is the dog, which fact has done more in recent years not only to cause the sheep men to become disgusted and dispose of their flocks, but also to keep hundreds of other men from going into the business. Losses to sheep in 1918, the latest report available, were from one to 68 head per flock, it is said. Declaring that the dog law should continue to be strictly enforced and that sheep breeders and kindred livestock associations in Kentucky will continue to support it despite its importance being questioned in some quarters, the resolution says: "The dog law represents in the opinion of members of the Sheep Breeders' Association, the best opinion of the live stock interests of Kentucky, the method by which live stock may be protected from dogs, that the present law as enacted is satisfactory to the live stock interests of the state; that it is effectively administered and that it is a source of protection to the farmer and has met with no complaint from taxpayers."

LATEST OIL NEWS

The best well brought in in the Eastern Kentucky field this week is No. 6 of the Koma Oil Company on the Veitch & Evelyn tract in Lee county, which came in flowing at the rate of 35 barrels an hour and is conservatively estimated at 400 barrels. The Old Dominion Oil Co. reports the completion of two good wells on its Lee county holdings. One of these is No. 3, on the M. J. Brandenburg tract, which is flowing, and while it has not yet been put on the pump, it is believed that it will make from 200 to 250 barrels. Its No. 19 on the Liberty Bryant lease is credited with 100 barrels.

On the Williams lease in Lee county, the Fidelity Oil and Gas Company, of Louisville, got a 50 barrels producer in its initial well which is just in. No. 2 of the Thraman Oil Co. on the Beatty heirs' lease, did not prove as good a producer as No. 1, according to reports from the field. The well is said to be a light well, being rated at only 25 barrels.

The Petroleum Exploration Co. has drilled in No. 322 on the Wells heirs lease in Lee county, which is showing for 25 barrels.

On the Sparks lease in Lee county the Cumberland Petroleum Co. has a nice well in its No. 12, which is good for 25 barrels. The same company has shot No. 9 on the Brack Combs farm, which is showing for a good producer.

Stockholders of the Wright Oil Co. on Wednesday received their dividend for June of 5 per cent, and notice that beginning July 1, the company would pay a 10 per cent monthly dividend until further notice. This is an increase of 5 per cent in the monthly di-has been taking the "cross" out of "kiddies" for half a century. They LIKE it—because it tastes good. Can't hurt them. Get it at your drug store.

CROSS KIDS

Don't say "they're just bad." Something else is the matter with them. Probably it's "worms."

DR. THACHER'S WORM SYRUP

The Richmond Browns before a good sized crowd of cheering rooters and joyous base ball fans, brought home the bacon by defeating the Richmond White Sox, a semi-professional white team, at Pioneer Park, Wednesday, the 28th, to the tune of 13 to 0.

MODEL SENIOR PLAY PROVES DECIDED SUCCESS

The Senior play of Model High School proved to be a success. Due to the untiring efforts of Miss Hanawalt and the Senior class, the auditorium was crowded, the audience delighted and about $110 realized. Mr. Harvey Smith made a handsome artist and lover. Miss Frances English as Tommy's wife, delighted the audience with her charm and grace. Patrick

Allen, as Dick Grannis, Tommy's chum, and Edith Nunn as his fiancée, played very successfully their part as lovers. Fannie Kellem, as Mrs. Katherine Jasper as her young and impressionable daughter seemed much at home in the role of millionaires. Galen White played the part of a gallant French fencing master, and Rowena Coates, as Edith's chum brought the play to a successful ending.
